Family activity ideas in New Zealand Auckland and the Bay of Islands, North Island Auckland skyline and Sky Tower. New Zealand's largest city is surprisingly child-friendly. My children loved ascending the Sky Tower, the silvery needle that lords it over Auckland's cityscape, and standing on its glass platforms looking down at the hubbub below.

It's amazing how many families on boats are blogging their lives afloat. I craved reports from the big blue on what it was really like to go cruising before we left...there just wasn't much posted back then!. I know how much this helps families making their own plans, so here's an aggregate of, well, all the blogging families afloat I could find, pretty much.

Voyaging with Annie Hill I've been living in New Zealand since 2010. I spent the first 2 years in South Island and sailed up to North Island for a JRA junket in 2012 and I've been based here ever since. In 2015, I took it into my head to build a boat, because Fantail didn't really suit me. It will be good to have a new boat, requiring minimal ...
