Women Without Men: A Novel of Modern Iran by Shahrnush ...

Banned shortly after publication for its depiction of female freedom, Women Without Men creates an evocative and powerfully drawn allegory of life in contemporary Iran. "Using the techniques of both the fabulist and the polemicist, Parsipur continues her protest against traditional Persian gender relations in this charming, powerful novella."

Women Without Men: A Novel of Modern Iran / Edition 1 by ...

Drawing on elements of Islamic mysticism and recent Iranian history, this unforgettable novel depicts women escaping the narrow confines of family and society, and imagines their future living in a world without men. Reminiscent of a wry fable, Women Without Men creates an evocative and powerfully drawn allegory of life in contemporary Iran. Shortly after the novel's 1989 publication, Parsipur was arrested and jailed for her frank and defiant portrayal of women's sexuality.

Women Without Men: A Novel of Modern Iran (Shahrnush Parsipur)

It is a short novel and very interesting. Munis is a character who is a ghost. Madhokht becomes a tree. Mrs. Farroklaqa buys a house in Karadj garden. All the women live there. But finally they are separated. Shahrnush Parsipur has written very interesting story of the painfulness and then the deeds of a woman. It's a readable book. I love this story.

Men Without Women is a collection of short stories by Haruki Murakami that came out in 2017 (not to be confused with Hemingway's short-story collection of the same name). Here, we have seven stories with male characters, each with varying degrees of despair, dread or loneliness from the lack or loss of women.

Men Without Women by Haruki Murakami - Goodreads

This book is split up into seven stories that each showcase a male protagonist that has lost a woman in their life in some way (e.g. Breakup, death). Men often get ridiculed for expressing personal emotions and feelings, so I was curious to read how this would be exemplified in an Asian cultural perspective.

Women Without Men is a 2009 film adaptation of the 1990 Shahrnush Parsipur novel, directed by Shirin Neshat. Neshat's work explores gender issues in the Islamic world. Women without Men is her first dramatic feature. The film profiles the lives of four women living in Tehran in 1953, during the American-backed coup that returned the Shah of Iran to power. The film was called "visually transfixing" by The New York Times reviewer Stephen Holden, who added, "the film surpasses even Michael Haneke's
